

A black and white line drawing of a space scene. In the center, a rocket ship is launching upwards, leaving a large, stylized trail of flames and smoke at the bottom. The word "Daisy" is written in large, bold, rounded letters across the middle of the image, with the rocket's trail passing behind it. The background is filled with various celestial objects: a crescent moon with a smiling face in the top left; several stars of different sizes; a shooting star with a long tail in the top right; a planet with horizontal stripes and a ring system (like Saturn) in the top right; a smaller planet with horizontal stripes in the middle right; a planet with vertical stripes in the bottom left; and a large, cratered planet in the bottom right. The bottom of the image is filled with stylized, swirling clouds.
