The rocket has a circular window and a pointed nose. Surrounding the rocket are various celestial bodies: a crescent moon with a smiling face in the top left; a shooting star with a long tail in the top center; a planet with horizontal stripes and a ring system in the top right; a planet with horizontal stripes in the middle right; a planet with vertical stripes in the bottom left; and a planet with craters in the bottom right. The background is filled with numerous small stars and dots of varying sizes. The word "Saarrrr" is written across the middle of the image in a large, bold, rounded font with thick outlines.
